COL. RANDELL DIES IN HOSPITAL

Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate Passes Away at Age of Seventy.

Col. Daniel Moore Randell, Sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate, died early yesterday morning at the Garfield Hospital. His death was due to an attack of angina pectoris, following an operation three weeks ago for the removal of an intestinal obstruction. Col. Randell had a wide political acquaintance, which extended to all parts of the country. He was appointed from Indianapolis, Ind. He was born in Marion County, in which Indianapolis is located, served with distinction as a soldier in the civil war, and lost his right arm in the battle of Rappahannock. Col. Randell was seventy years old. He had always been an ardent Republican and a strict party organization man. President Benjamin Harrison brought him to Washington by conferring an appointment as Marshal of the District of Columbia.

During a service in that office for four years Col. Randell continued to be the close personal friend of President Harrison, and usually traveled with him whenever the President left Washington. He went out of office with the Harrison administration, and returned to Indianapolis and took up a business career. In 1904, when the Senate had become Republican, following a Democratic regime, Col. Randell was elected Sergeant-at-arms, and has continued to fill that office up until his death. He was a very popular and important officer of the Senate.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS TURKEY DINNER

Quiet Family Party Observes Thanksgiving—Mr. Taft Plays Golf.

President and Mrs. Taft last night enjoyed their last Thanksgiving dinner in the White House. It was a quiet family party. In addition to the President and Mrs. Taft, the only others present were Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Heron, and Robert and Charles Taft. Miss Helen Taft, who is returning from a trip to Panama, was the only absentee.

The large turkey which is annually furnished by Horace Vose, of Westbury, L. I., arrived late Wednesday night and was served in the best of culinary style known to the White House chef.

The President had a busy day in spite of the fact that he did not go to his office. In the morning Mr. and Mrs. Taft attended the annual Pan-American mass held at St. Patrick's Church, and later attended services at the Unitarian Church.

In the afternoon they attended the marriage of Miss Alice G. Boutell, daughter of R. G. Boutell, American Minister to Switzerland, to John W. Brooks Ladd, of Boston. The President also found time to play a round of golf at the Chevy Chase Club before dinner.
